

Call for Applications

Winter Seminar 2021

WHERE TO STUDY? WHERE TO WORK? WHERE TO LIVE?

Career Routes for Young Intellectuals in Central and Eastern Europe

24-26 February 2020

Győr, Hungary

Széchenyi István University Faculty of Law
Department of Constitutional Law and Political Sciences

Many young people in Central and Eastern Europe plan to go abroad to study and work (and maybe unplanned: to live). In 2020, the pandemic and the Brexit set new challenges for these aspirations. The Winter Seminar aims to discuss the new frames of our dreams, including the alternatives online higher education and innovative jobs can offer. The alumni of our international programs are welcome to share their experience on planning and implementing European or global study programs and career routes.

- The interdisciplinary intensive seminar offers a workshop and a forum for students and young researchers.
- Noted experts, lecturers and professors from different Central European universities help to discover and discuss the various aspects of brain drain, student mobility, online and innovative study programs, workplaces in Europe and in our region.
- The seminar will include academic lectures and workshop opportunities with the active contribution of participants.
- Besides the new participants, this year the participants of the previous Winter Seminars and Batthyány Summer Schools will meet again – and tell the stories of our career routes.

Program details

The official programme will take place online via Google Meet platform, hosted by the Széchenyi István University, Department of Constitutional Law and Political Sciences. (Link will be published in due time before the event.)

Period: 24-26 February 2020

- The Seminar is open for higher education students and PhD candidates as young researchers from any fields of legal, economic, media, communications, social, international and security studies from all over Europe.
- 20 places are provided for incoming new students from abroad (plus alumni colleagues will join).
- The language of the Seminar is English.
- We present e-certificates on the participation and contributions.

Costs

Registration fee: no registration fee.

Application deadline:

8 February 2021

How to apply to the Winter Seminar 2021?

The application form is available here.

The applicants will be informed about the admission results until 20 February 2021.

Information and contact:

- Ms. Eszter Csizmarik (assistant) – csizmarik@ga.sze.hu and Prof. Peter Smuk (supervisor) – smuk.peter@sze.hu;
- <https://apt.sze.hu/winsem2021>
- <https://www.facebook.com/winterseminar/>

Join us on facebook:

<https://www.facebook.com/winterseminar/>